Anthony J. DiPaula, P.A.

BY CHRIS BACON

For Anthony DiPaula, it has always been about personal relationships with clients. When asked about his mission, DiPaula says, “We were founded upon the premise of ‘Everyday Law for Everyday People.’”

Previously voted to The Daily Record’s “A-List” as one of Maryland’s favorite personal lawyers, and recently a finalist for SmartCEO Magazine’s Power Player Award for attorneys, DiPaula opened his own practice in Bel Air in 2000 to better fill a need in Harford County.

The general practice law firm assists clients with their personal, family and small business legal needs. The firm handles civil litigation involving contract disputes, estate litigation, criminal defense and other cases. DiPaula notes that the law firm can assist in many situations. “We serve the clients that live in the same community by offering extraordinary client service at affordable rates.”

DiPaula and his wife have lived in Bel Air with their four children since 1984. He is very active in the Harford County community, having coached youth athletics, served on boards including the Bel Air Recreation Committee Board of Directors and chaired the St. Margaret’s Parent Association and the Patriot Parent Association of The John Carroll School. I95
